

The Hispanic Chamber of Commerce of Montgomery County invites you and your associates to the Networking Luncheon Series

This luncheon series was created to assist you to expand your business sphere of influence by initiating mutually valuable new relationships with other business owners. People and businesses will interact with whom they know and trust and develop new relationships.

At this luncheon, our colleagues at Macklin Center for Entrepreneurship & Montgomery College will talk about the learning opportunities they offer to the business community. They will point out how to access the wide range of Montgomery College training programs that help small and minority-owned businesses. The Dean of the College's Workforce Development and Continuing Education (WDCE) Division will discuss their noncredit programs for individuals and business. Training areas range from information technology software and web development to accounting, management development, human resources, food safety and event management. Learn more about how to access these programs. Some of these programs are offered in Spanish.
